

Canada is bilingual and I support following the established laws to protect the French language including equal access and opportunity. That is my answer to both of your questions.

Jim Dayman